BASF launches “Color Trends 2016”

- New effect pigment collection helps customers to create beauty care solutions for up-and-coming color trends 2016
- Four distinct beauty trends based upon cultural drivers in the global market place

Paris, France – January 13, 2015 – What is coming next? And what will stick around? Like the fashion industry, cosmetics manufacturers keep a watchful eye far in advance on up-and-coming color trends. To help them bring the latest hues of lipstick, eyeliner and other products onto their shelves, BASF is offering its customers an extensive portfolio of effect pigments already for the cutting-edge colors of the future.

A journey through four distinct beauty trends

BASF’s new “Color Trends 2016” – a carefully compiled collection of effect pigments and formulations – draws upon cultural drivers in the global market place with an eye for different consumer types. Partnering with Fashion Snoops, a leading consulting agency in trends, style and innovation based in New York, BASF has identified four distinct beauty trends for 2016: “Color Full”, “Ancient Wisdom”, “Woman of Power” and “Third Act.” “Our new collection is a journey through next year’s beauty trends”, said Valérie Pian-Parison, Marketing Manager at BASF’s Personal Care business. “We expect these trends to spark innovation, ignite the creativity of our customers and inspire them as they create their new product lines for 2016.”

Colorful self-expression

The “Color Full” trend, for example, attracts fun-loving, outgoing personalities who are active participants in the world. Accordingly, the relevant color palette features extreme, jolting colors balanced with black, white and metallic silvers. Just one BASF formulation which expresses this colorful attitude is its “Intense Pink Lipstick” which features Reflecks™ Rich Red and Chione™ HD Digital Pink effect pigments.

Timeless beauty

The “Ancient Wisdom” trend is a nod to a sense of beauty that is timeless. It revolves around ideals of beauty and ideologies of the ancient world, calling for a color palette inspired by the Romance and Renaissance eras. Colors range from olive greens, berry reds and milky creams, to flowery pinks that are complemented by earthy tones. “Regal Glow Veil”, BASF’s matte, powder foundation formulation with Chione™ HD Crisp Gold and Reflecks™ Dimension Shiny Gold, is one example of a product which helps achieve this trend’s key look.

Celebrating authenticity

Rather than accepting rivaling attributes in leading women, the “Woman of Power” trend embraces them. It advocates authenticity – celebrating women who are bold yet tender, direct yet warm, and sensual yet strong. Deep berry tones, intense navy hues and peachy nudes capture the palette from spring to fall, while pink and purple tones add depth and express strength and sensuality. In line with this, BASF’s “Deep Sapphire Eyeshadow” combines bold tones and soft hues, with Cloisonné® Nu-Antique Blue and Timica® Terra Black pairing up to make a real statement.

Reframing age

Capitalizing on the increase in average life-expectancy of today’s consumers, the “Third Act” trend reframes age and equates growing older with getting wiser and accepting oneself. The color palette offers a mature and understated approach to spring hues and their transition to deep fall colors, complemented by cool tones that work throughout the year. Rich caramel hues emanate warmth, while blue and pink shades signal sophistication. In answer to this trend, BASF has developed “Graceful Radiance Serum”, a lightweight emulsion with Timica® Terra White delivering a sheer satin veil, and Chione™ HD Digital Pink and Chione™ HD Metric Violet to make the skin look more radiant.
